Challenge Skills

9. Challenge stands should be designed to test teams in the application of rescue and response skills and techniques.
10. Other skills that may be tested are First Aid and basic survival skills.
11. Additionally, each stand should provide an opportunity for reconnaissance and information gathering skills, leadership and team management to be demonstrated.

Emergency Medical Response

12. The primary focus of the competition is emergency response.
13. Stands involving the first aid management of casualties shall have scoring sheets specific to that stand.
14. Assessment must be to the current National Standards.

Challenge Concept and Design

15. The overall operational concept, scenario and detailed design of the challenge should be:
  - a. Teams should arrive at a stand at the commencement of the working timeframe, and will be provided with a short situational briefing. This may be provided by an umpire, a responder (e.g. police officer), or a member of the public. A briefing should be provided to the person given.
  - b. Stand timings will take into account the working time, debriefing time and travel time between stands. Each stand must be achievable within the action phase of the stand timing.
  - c. Challenge stands must be designed and managed so that team leadership and teamwork, decision-making and tactics, team performance and overall techniques used are all assessed rather than the judging of individual handbook drills.
  - d. To ensure consistency for each team, stands must be set up with the same casualties, judges, equipment and props. In the event that a judge / casualty is unable to continue their role in the challenge, the stand timing must be stopped until the replacement person has been fully briefed and prepared to perform their role by the chief judge and stand manager.

Number of Challenge Stands

16. The competition should be designed wherever practical, with one stand more than there are competing teams, thus allowing the judges to have an opportunity to observe some of the Events.
17. Regardless of the number of competing teams, there shall be a minimum challenge stands of:
  1. INTER-MDRRMC – FIVE (5)
  2. INTER-SECONDARY – FIVE (5)
  3. INTER-COLLEGE – FIVE (5)
  4. INTER-BARANGAY – FIVE (5)

Stand Duration

18. As a guide, each stand in a competition should be based on a 30minute maximum time block. Each time block is made up of three phases. These are:

- briefing and action phase 5 minutes
- Judges feedback 5 minutes, travel to next stand, rest stand if in between.
- Action phase of 20 mins.

Sense of Urgency

19. Whilst the competition is a challenge, teams are expected to employ that same sense of urgency that they would during a real operation. Each team dispatched will be timed from the time of dispatch to their arrival on scene.
20. In the event of LDRRMC's only from departure to gate of Aklan Sports complex is allowed to use siren. Outside Aklan Sports Complex response team will only utilize blinker and drive the response vehicle safely. The time from gate to location is not counted.

Judges and Judging

20. The following points relate to judges and judging:
  - a. A chief judge must be appointed for the challenge. He or she shall arbitrate in the event of any dispute.
  - b. Judges are to be provided with a copy of the judging guidelines prior to the challenge.
  - c. Judges are to be given a full brief at prior to the challenge. This brief must include a walkthrough of the stand they are judging.
  - d. A minimum of two [2] judges shall be appointed for each stand.
  - e. Every team participating in a stand must be assessed by the same panel of judges to ensure consistency in scoring. In the event that a judge is unable to continue their role in the challenge, the replacement judge must be fully briefed and prepared by the chief judge and stand manager before commencing their role.
  - f. It is imperative that teams receive feedback immediately following their completion of each stand. The feedback is to assist the team to learn from the experience. It is also an opportunity for the judges to focus on those aspects in which a team has done particularly well. At no time are the judges permitted to give any indication as to the score that a team may have received.

Scoring the Stands

21. The score sheet developed in the workshop must be used in all Competitions.
22. The following general points relate to scoring challenge stands:
  - a. Each stand in the challenge must be allocated the same scoring points value or be scaled to the same value.
  - b. Each judge is to complete a separate score sheet. Therefore each stand should have at least 2 score sheets per team.
  - c. Judges may not be able to see all operations in a scenario which poses difficulties in objectively judging a team against all sections of the score sheet. To this end, each judge should only be required to complete the sections of the score sheet that they have been nominated to judge. Areas not scored due to reasons such as the judge was not positioned to witness a part of the action such as briefing should be ruled off and a comment noted explaining why it wasn't scored. If one team is not scored for this reason then all teams must not be scored in this section by this judge.

- d. Judges must make written comment on the score sheet where appropriate to amplify the score allocated. One of the aims of the challenge is continuous learning and to this end, the comments of the judges are vital in allowing the team to develop.
- e. Each judge's score is final and will not be altered by any other person.
- f. In the event of a tied score, a count-back of TOTAL Time for 'ALL STANDS' will be conducted to decide the outright winner and runner up.

The Scoring Centre

23. A scoring center should be established at the challenge headquarters. The functions of this center are to:
  24. receive the score sheets at the completion of each stand, ensuring that the correct number of sheets is received and that all are correctly completed
  25. confirm the score calculations on each sheet
  26. add the total scores on each judge's sheet to provide a final team score for the stand
  27. enter the scores on the master score database using Google Sheet form and Display in LED Wall the score and send via Google sheet drive the actual score.
  28. rank the scores and total all the ranking to all stand to get the outright winner
  29. Ensure that the scores for all stands are highlighted to expedite the award of the prizes.

Safety

24. Safety is everybody's responsibility. The following safety procedures must be complied with:
  - a. Judges are responsible for the overall safety at rescue stands. However, on specific stands, a separate (non-judging) safety officer may be appointed. Judges and safety officers must also pay particular attention to the individual safety of challenge casualties.
  - b. A combination of live/Dummy casualties may be used on all rescue stands
  - c. All judges and other challenge stand management personnel must wear appropriate personal protective equipment.
  - d. If at any time it is the opinion of a judge or appointed safety officer that a significant safety problem exists with the potential to create harm to any person on or near the stand, they shall give the command STOP and/or a single, long whistle blast. With this signal, all members of the team and other persons on or near the stand will immediately cease any action and stand still. The judge issuing the STOP call will then explain the safety breach to the team leader and ensure that it is rectified.
  - e. Each STOP call will result in the deduction of ten [10] points from the score sheet. Only one judge should record the stop on a score sheet.
  - f. Where repeated safety STOP commands are issued and it is the opinion of all judges on the stand that the team is unable to continue in a safe manner, the judges will terminate the stand. In such a case, the chief judge shall be notified as soon as practicable, the team will score no points, and the judges will provide a full and detailed debriefing. If time permits judges should take the opportunity to demonstrate correct practice so as to allow for learning and development to occur.

- g. Judges must exercise caution to ensure that a STOP call does not make a safety problem worse.
- h. Stand timing will not be stopped during rectification of a safety problem caused by the team. At the judges' discretion, the clock may be stopped where the team is not at fault.
- 25. Only the participating team, casualties, supporting actors, the judges and personnel specifically approved by the chief judge (such as photographers) may be present within a stand perimeter during challenge play.

Emergency Response Capability

- 26. An emergency response capability is to be available at all times during the conduct of the competition.

Team Composition

- 27. Specific details relating to team composition are:
  - a. Each Team is only permitted to register one [1] team in any competition.
  - b. Each Team should select their team carefully with respect to a member's fitness and health.
